It did yesterday-higher, active, but ner-The market opened this morning about as what was expected of them. The Liver-pool market was weaker and lower, sending in cables which showed %d. decline from last night's closing. Nevertheless, local prices were advanced %c. at the start and remained so during the first half hour. Then a reaction, followed by a partial recovery, took place, and throughout the morning the market was rather uneasy and fluctuated under small transactions. There was very little foreign interest in futures noted, though the export business was lively. There was little of moment in the crop news. Heavy rains were reported in the Northwest, but little real damage was reported. Cable advices that the Grecks had captured three Turkish grain vessels added a little strength to the market near midday.
